Additional Conditions and Information:

- The Kentucky Fire Commission is responsible for reviewing and approving curriculum materials to be used by Kentucky Fire Commission Level I Certified Instructors, when delivering educational programs for which credit will be awarded through the Kentucky Fire Commission Certification System. The two recent editions of a curriculum are considered to be current for this purpose.

- In general, curriculum materials include: Lesson plans, audio-visual materials, skills sheets, and other student materials. A textbook that is published without accompanying educational or training materials does not necessarily constitute a curriculum for the purposes of this list.

- Authority Having Jurisdiction (AHJ) for the purposes of this document is the local fire department or agency responsible for the instructor, or local fire department which has invited the instructor to their department. In addition to Kentucky certification and the curriculum, the instructor must possess the knowledge and skills to present the lesson and where noted, it is left to the AHJ to make this determination.

List of Approved Curricula for Level I Fire Instructors

April 2021

- Courses taught specifically for Class Based Accredited Certification must be credentialed, at a minimum to the level that the class is being taught at. Example: An instructor teaching a Driver/Operator: Pumper class for Accredited Certification must be credentialed at the Driver/Operator: Pumper level.
- National Fire Academy, FEMA, and Kentucky Fire Commission developed curricula are approved for use internally by State Fire Rescue Training instructors certified as a Level I Instructor.
- Additional programs not listed in this document may also be approved for use. These materials must be submitted to the Fire Commission using the appropriate form.
- Conditions for Online Learning: 1) Firefighter training hours are subject to Kentucky Fire Commission guidelines for online training; which includes being monitored/supervised by a Kentucky Fire Commission certified instructor; 2) Online training is only for recertification, not initial certification; 3) A maximum of 25% of annual required training may be obtained through online sources; 4) All applicable KBEMS regulations must be followed when awarding credit for online training as it relates to EMS certification/recertification.
- Virtual Instructor Led Training (VILT): Must follow published guidelines set forth by the Kentucky Fire Commission. Curriculum utilized in these courses should be in accordance with this list.
- Fire and Emergency Services Higher Education (FESHE) correlated programs and curricula are typically used in a college or university setting, but may be utilized outside of that setting.
