E001 – EMT Refresher

20 Hours

Friday, Saturday & Sunday

EMS Providers - Check this out. JPFA's 20-hour EMT Refresher Class has been one of the busiest classes that takes place during the Fire School weekend. Our instructors provide several topics in order to meet the needs of individuals maintaining their certification in accordance with the Kentucky Board of EMS (KBEMS) or National Registry (NREMT). This year shall be no different and instructors are still working on the outline for the class at the time of this writing, yet they never fail to bring good topics as well as instructors to the table to meet your needs.

On Friday March 24th at 6 p.m. they will be providing CPR training.

Prerequisite: KY EMS Provider

FS01 – Firefighter Basic 20

20 Hours

Friday, Saturday & Sunday

Firefighter Basic 20 is designed to capture a recruit in the Fire Service and provide them with the essential hours to obtain their certification sooner as well as become eligible to perform more tasks on scene with the most appropriate level of understanding of how to operate and function within a structure of management and maintain a great degree of safety. Basic 20 is also a very good tool for other firefighters to obtain refresher hours in training.

FS02 – Firefighter Survival & Rescue

16 Hours

Saturday & Sunday

Firefighter Survival and Rescue Course is a 2 Day event that is a requirement for certification as a Ky Basic II Firefighter. With the Survival portion of the class, the student will learn to adapt and overcome the obstacles that could be faced in a fire emergency that may cause the firefighter to become precariously limited in options of escape or being trapped. Freeing yourself from such situations of peril would seem like something any firefighter would want to know!

Firefighter Rescue is of course the other half of the class that provides students with the understanding of what and how a firefighter faced with the dangers of another firefighter being trapped can do most effectively to aid in their fellow firefighters need to become rescued.

If a firefighter is only trying to meet the requirements of KY Basic 1 Firefighter that candidate is not required to perform skill. However, to obtain KY Basic 2 Firefighter requirement does require skills to be performed.

Open to Jr Firefighters or those of 15-17 ages (Requires Permission Form)

FS03 – NFA Leadership

16 Hours

Saturday & Sunday

NFA Leadership. This 2-day course presents the firefighter with the basic leadership skills and tools needed to perform effectively in the fire service environment. The course includes techniques and approaches to problem-solving, ways to identify and assess the needs any subordinates you may have during the decision-making process of on scene operations. Leadership also allows the student to learn good techniques of general management of personnel during non-emergent times where a group may be found needing a positive leader or controller of an event. If you are looking at eventually obtaining a position within your department, please take this class while it is offered, we are almost certain that it will be of benefit!

Please do not be fooled or intimidated by the name of the class, there is hardly a person in the fire service that couldn't use this class of understanding for appreciating others that may be in higher leadership roles.

FS004 – Hazardous Material Training 16 Hours (Not a certifying class) Saturday & Sunday

The Potential for a Hazardous Materials incident hides from no-one. Your need to know what is coming your way is almost ascertain, be prepared! JPFA 2023 Fire School will be hosting this class as an informational as well as practical class to allow first responders from any level to get to know the so-called ins & outs of Hazardous Materials Response. Hazardous Materials Training will be held on the level of HAZ-MAT Operation material in order to provide the opportunity for first responders to obtain knowledge and skill that is performed during Haz-Mat events, yet not inclusive enough for this to be a certification class. Avoiding the certification will allow us to provide some really solid material in this field, hopefully to entice other firefighters to appreciate the field and desire to expand their knowledge beyond this program. Many portions of this class will be hands on style training.

FS05 – Rope Rescue

16 Hours

Saturday & Sunday

Rope Rescue is a situation that first responders seem to have the use for but sometimes are lacking knowledge, equipment or experience when the need arises. Our instructor for this class has all of the previously listed criteria in order to spend 16 hours with students and make the job look easy. Whether it be a vehicle accident down a steep embankment, or any number of other situations, being able to deploy rope rescue techniques effectively can greatly reduce the stress of a situation and improve patient chances for an overall best turnout. Some find Rope Training intimidating or daunting, as you improve your skill with some basic exercises, which can be overcome in a short manner of time. Our Instructor is focused on giving you the right knowledge for you to take back home and then refine your skill, so the next time your department has a potential need for Rope Rescue you can stand up to the challenge! If our instructor does as he has done in the past, Hands on!!!

FS10 – Ventilation Class with Prop

8 Hours

Saturday OR Sunday

Ventilation Class with Prop- Making the cut is how some firefighters view it. Ventilation training is of course the primary purpose or role for a good Power Point Presentation, but what if we take it farther than that and give you the opportunity to actually cut into a simulated structure and “Make it Real”. We are firefighters and as a result we like hands on classes. This class is set to do just that and take it and make it “Real”! Learning techniques of both vertical and horizontal that will produce the most appropriate results. Equipment use and safety coupled with some good decision making can make a ventilation demand become a highly effective tool in some fireground challenges.

FS11 – Fireground Tactics and Techniques

8 Hours

Saturday

Does your department have the BEST Fireground Tactics and Techniques? We all have pride in our departments and feel as we do a really excellent job protecting and serving our communities, so let's take it up a notch. Guest instructors from a rather heavily populated metropolitan area of the United States will be in for a fairly fast-paced approach on Tactics and Techniques. Oh, your thinking, Big City, coming to rural Western Kentucky, their approach is going to be too different. Not the case, we assure you! Take the time and define Tactics and Techniques and see if you want this challenge.

Oh, why won't we just say who the instructors are or exactly where are they from, TAKE THE CLASS, to find out. They have too many years of experience to let you down in this training opportunity!

FS12 – Thermography

8 Hours

Saturday OR Sunday

Have you been handed a Thermal Imaging Camera and had the “nickel tour” or “5 minute” lesson on it. JPFA has sought to remedy as many questions as answers could be provided for in this field of expertise. Many vendors are great about selling a department the latest and greatest of Thermal Imaging Devices and they often provide instruction on the day of delivery (Not your training night), so it’s all left up to the Chief to get you oriented. Let’s fix that. No disrespect to any Chief for their attempt to pass along the knowledge shared by the vendor, but the vendor or Chief may have forgotten to share something along the way. Whether it’s on our SCBA regulator or handheld, we want you to understand as many more features or abilities as possible as these are part of your “tools of the trade”. JPFA has looked to State Fire & Rescue Training to provide an instructor with answers. Let’s get the most from our Thermal Imaging Devices! Thermography is an art within itself whether it be used in TIC’s or any other Forward Looking Infrared Devices (FLIR). We ask you to take this opportunity to capture something that you have not previously seen in regional fire school training! The JPFA Fire School Committee was so thoughtful to come up with this approach for your benefit, so easy enough to say, support this class by being part of it.

FS13 Drone Awareness and Orientation

8 Hours

Saturday OR Sunday

Drone Awareness and Orientation is a class developed between KY State Fire & Rescue Training and KY Office of Emergency Management. 4 Hours of this class will provide such information to orient the student with Ky SFRT Standards of Drone Operation Awareness then the remaining 4 hours will address KY OEM utilization of SUAV's in search operation for lost persons. For either of the purposes, it is important to understand the requirements that entail this utilization of SUAV's in the emergency operation realm. The instructor being an FCC Licensed pilot for Drone and maintaining one of the states most prominent Drone Programs will utilize KY SFRT training curriculum to base your drone operation understanding. There are easily so many advantages from the utilization of "Drones" in the emergency services field from 360-degree views from a fire scene to lost person search and rescue as well as limited view Hazardous Materials incidents. Wow, a drone can make our situation safer and easier, we just need to know the rules and rights to use them! I think you can see from here that there is value in this class! Even if you don't plan on being a pilot or owning a drone for your department, what are the local resources available and how do I utilize them? Lots of reasons to attend this class, just sign up for the benefit!

Coupled with the Cancer Awareness our instructors are prepared to provide information and advice on proper gear decontamination that can be done by any and all firefighters as well as advise on how to obtain grant information on gear decontamination units (aka, Smoke Extractor washing units). Most of us don’t want to think about cancer, but we probably need to change our way of thinking before it’s too late!

Our jobs in the fire service are no doubt physically demanding at times and we moan and groan the next day for the muscles that we may not often use. What about your brain? As well as your Heart that grieves for the victims of tragedy? Mental Health has been played off as “Being Tuff Enough” in previous days and years. Let’s address some of the Signs and Symptoms that you may be facing as aches and pains from your brain and heart, just like we do for your muscles and skeleton. Many people shy away from this type of class due to the “Being Tuff Enough,” We are here to tell you, don’t be shy now! The fire service is enriched with many support networks, local as well as strangers, that can meet your needs to help cope or deal with the stresses of emergency response that may affect your mental health! The best way to be able to provide for those in need tomorrow is to take care of yourself today, so you can be there then!

First Responders are continually faced with many hazards of the job. As many know there are street drugs out that pose a vastly different risk to responders, whether it be by accidental contact to these medications or the patient that may be using these medications and becoming agitated, excited or in delirium. FS20 – Helicopter Prop/Air Ambulance Orientation

Much of Western Kentucky that we serve is presented with the threat of aircraft that present in almost if not all of the counties served under Jackson Purchase Fire Departments and a number of them have a historical past of an aircraft emergency. With this being said, the members of JPFA 2023 School Committee wish to bring the opportunity to you to experience firefighting with the rotor blade type of aircraft (Helicopter). The military base of Fort Campbell, many Air ambulances in the area as well as crop dusting, power line maintenance, and personal transportation, wow that's a lot of potential risk! What happens should one of these aircraft find a remote location to have an emergency? Any department at any time could face this challenge, so let's find answers as to how to deal with it. The first portion of the class will be a helicopter training prop for how to deal with aircraft on fire as a hands-on skill.

The second half of this class, also dealing with Helicopters, will focus on Air Ambulance Operations from requesting to supporting operations of an Air Ambulance for Landing Zone training. Our local Air Ambulance will present their needs to acquaint first responders to this operation.
